The hanging baskets and refreshed planters are now in place, thanks to Dave Henderson and the Garden Club.

As David Henderson is retiring as chair at the end of May we will need a new Chair person for the committee. If you feel like joining the committee and possibly taking on this role please do get in touch with me or with any other member of the village hall management committee listed on page 31. The committee meets once a quarter now so the meetings are quite a light commitment.

Do come along on 3rd June at 7pm.

We also need someone to take on managing the advertisers in the magazine—otherwise R&A will have no funding. Call me.

Many thanks to all those who have contributed this month. Jenna, Editor

Lawshall Tuesday Club

We are maintaining our numbers on a regular basis each Tuesday afternoon. Thank you to David who held the fort for me when I was unable to be at the meeting myself.

We have just had a really great day out to the Mid-Norfolk railway where we met several members of the preservation trust. Look up their timetable and make a visit it will be really worthwhile. We had to change the location for our meal at the last moment due to a village funeral in Hockwold cum Wilton but our visit to the Wagon and Horses in Griston was a huge success so again if you are out that way we all highly recommend the establishment. As for the day we were blessed with beautiful sunshine.

We also enjoyed a visit from the Southwark Pearly King and ate a lovely cream tea last week.

This month we are off to Helmingham Hall Gardens for our trip with another meal locally, and this also promises to be another lovely day especially if the weather is kind to us again.

If I have whet your appetite why not come along to the village hall between 2pm and 4pm on Tuesday's, you will have a warm welcome.

Bird Notes June 2019 by Cliff Cooper

93, that's the total number of bird species we saw on our recent mini holiday in Norfolk. I imagine that some of you might think that is a high figure, but in mid- May it should not be too difficult to reach 100+ around the Norfolk coastal area. Even the migratory species we did see appeared to be in smaller numbers.

I am really beginning to believe that we will very soon lose some of our treasured bird species for ever if there is not a more universal attempt to stop their decline. The problems lie not just here where we are putting too much pressure on our land, but in many other parts of the world where our migrants spend the rest of the year; winter feeding grounds in southern Africa are being destroyed for human developments, massive nets (up to 700 km long) are being used to trap birds along the north African coast, while others are shot as they pass over Malta, Cyprus and other countries. What chance do they stand of surviving this onslaught year after year?

Have you heard a cuckoo this year, how many swifts, swallows and house martins have you seen? I have received 1 report of a turtle dove in the village so far and we were fortunate enough to see one fly in and land at Snettisham during our holiday. The marvellous thing about that was that the turtle dove started to sing within five minutes of its arrival from over the North sea!

On a happier note, we did see a party of dotterel taking some time out on farmland near the coast. They will have travelled many, many hundreds of miles to get here and by now will have gone on to Scandinavia for their breeding season from June to August. These lovely little waders have never been common and their numbers are dwindling.

I hope you have not found this article too depressing, but we must do something drastic very soon or it will be too late for many of our feathered friends.

LAWSHALL GARDEN CLUB

June....The month of the rose. Those of you that know me will be aware of my passion for roses and June is the month when they smother us with their wonderful colours and scents. I appreciate that we don't all love them with their thorns and the constant need to be deadheading and nurturing but they are quintessentially English and part of our summer.

As we enter the summer months and the weather gets warmer we can think about propagating some of our shrubs. This is the time when we can do so without the need for a greenhouse. All you will need is the top half of a plastic bottle. OK, so plastic bottles have become the enemy of late but they are still here whether we like it nor not so why not put them to good use. Start propagating as soon as this years' new young shoots have reached about 10-15cm long. Snip soft shoot tips off the parent plant and remove the lower leaves. Make a clean cut across the base just below a node (where a leaf joins a stem). The cutting should be 8-10cm long once prepared.

Dip the base in rooting powder and plant them into prepared ground about 15cm apart. They won't all root so plant more than you need. Water them in then cover with the top half of a plastic bottle with the screw cap on. This allows humidity to build up. You can remove then cap after 2 or 3 weeks. Perhaps 4 weeks later you can remove the bottle during the day but replace it at night. This allows for gentle acclimatisation. Give this a try and see how you get on. Members of the garden club can perhaps grow some to swap or sell on through our stalls at summer fairs etc. The best plants for propagating in summer are Cornus, Berberis, Deutzia, Hebe, Forsythia, Hydrangea, Philadelphus, Ribes and Weigela. Obviously Roses are also included in this. I tried propagating some roses last summer and 2 successfully took out of the 6 I tried so I was quite happy with that. I will try again this year but in a pot instead of the ground to see how successful this method is.

Gardening is all about experimenting. Whether it be propagating, the siting of plants, types of plants and different types of vegetables or fruits. It's fun to try and very rewarding when you succeed. Don't forget to keep pots watered during dry spells and plant out lots of colour once all chance of frost has gone. It is the 12th May as I write this and a frost is forecast for tomorrow so you need to be careful.

Enjoy your gardens and don't forget to visit other gardens for ideas and inspiration. Invite others into your garden too. Take care; I'll be back next month.

Our next volunteer morning will be...

Sunday 30th June, 9:30-12:30, Golden Wood, Bury Road

This month we'll finish removing the old tubes from planted trees and start sorting the open areas of the woodland. As you can see from the picture below, April's work party had a good turn out. Our main job was to protect new tree growth from the deer.

Instead of our usual meeting in May, we had our AGM where we dealt with the 'official' business for the year, during which we re-elected our president and other committee members.

Once that was dealt with, the ladies enjoyed a sociable evening with a ploughman's and a raffle. We were also delighted to welcome one new member and one prospective new member.

Next month we are all looking forward to a 60's evening. (mini-skirts not required – thank goodness!) Our speaker / singer is David Padwick who will be taking us all back to the 60's with songs and various other reminiscences - for those of us old enough to remember things the first time round ! – and a little introduction for those who are not!

We hold our meetings on the 2nd Wednesday of every month and our next meeting; which is the 60's night, is on Weds 12th June at the village hall. (it's free to come along as a guest – and we promise a very warm welcome!)

Bury Bach Choir perform Purcell's only opera, Dido and Aeneas. This enchanting work recounts the love of Dido, Queen of Carthage, for the Trojan hero, Aeneas, and her despair when he abandons her. It contains the famous "Dido's Lament", performed by award winning Suffolk-born mezzo-soprano, Clare Presland.

To reflect Purcell's major contribution to English sacred music, the concert opens with three Purcell church anthems. The Suffolk Baroque Players provide the perfect contrast with an orchestral Suite from Handel's Water Music.

MASS SCHEDULE

AT LAWSHALL

Sunday	10.30am
Wednesday	2.00pm
Holy Days	7.00pm (Vigil Mass)

During this month we will be continuing with our nature theme. We will be digging and planting seeds and looking at how things grow and change. As part of this theme we will be developing our knowledge of numbers by setting up a garden centre in our outside area – we will be making price tags and learning how to use a till and money.

We always love looking for bugs while we are outside, and we will be looking at them more closely with our discovery boxes and magnifying glasses, and ‘writing’ down what we find out about them.

We hope the weather will be kind to us while we are so busy outside, but if not we will be able to put on our new rain suits.

We have a few spaces available for some of our sessions. We also welcome visits from prospective parents and children for the September 2019 intake.

If you would like any further information, or to arrange a visit, please feel free to contact us on 01284 827588 or e-mail us on lawshallpre-school@hotmail.co.uk

Come & Sing in Hartest

Sat 29th June - Chris Rowbury

These morning events run from 10.00 am - 12.30 with refreshments served at half time.

We have a break in the Summer and hope to have more singing after that.

Lawshall Weather Summary – April 2019

This was another month of statistics, because we had the lowest April monthly rainfall since records began, but we also had frosts on the 3rd and again from the 10th to the 14th. We can couple this with the lowest night-time April temperature for several years, followed by a perfect Easter of unbroken blue skies and sunshine, producing an average temperature for the holiday period of 25.9°C. The month finished with gale force winds – Storm Hannah – on the 27th. Full details are shown below:-

Total Rainfall: 5mm in 3 days. 2018 was 64mm in 14 days

Stowmarket 10-year average is 41mm in 9 days

Daytime Average Temperature: 16.9 2018 was 16.5

Stowmarket 10-year average is 12.7

Highest Temperature: 26.4 2018 was 24.7

Night-time average temperature: 5.4 2018 was 7.5

Stowmarket 10-year average is 4.1

Lowest Temperature: 1.1 2018 was 4.1

All temperature figures are shown in °C

We have to wonder what will happen concerning the old saying of:

“April showers bring forth May flowers”

No doubt we’ll see the outcome of this next month.
