Editorial. Well! Some celebrations for Lawshall this month—a 100th Birthday (see page 26) and the award of a British Empire Medal to Grenville Clarke - Very well deserved. There have also been rare bird sightings (pages 17 and 21.)

We continue on with covid lurking—there is a really useful chart from the NHS posted on the Lawshall Neighbourhood watch group Facebook page on 13th October giving clear details of what is allowed for our Medium Alert category. Sadly it's too detailed to print here! <https://www.facebook.com/groups/426345658239072>

There are also warnings from trading standards and the police on rogue traders and various scams, some of which look very official. The safe messages are—don't deal with cold calling or doorstep traders. If any email asks you to click on a link or open an attachment—be very sure you know what it is before doing so. NEVER give any financial details in response to an unsolicited email or call.

Work is starting on Sicklesmere stores, with repairs to the home, installation of flood gates and later on repairs to the shop. Blocked and collapsed drains further up the hill contributed to the flood there in June. Meanwhile there is a visiting mobile post office on Tuesday mornings. - I hadn't realised this.

Thank you to all those who have contributed this month. If you miss the garden club article from David—it will be back after a couple of months break. Please continue to send me things you want included in the magazine—it is for all of you.

Christmas is coming fast upon us—see page 14. Please use our local market which is expanding—see page 15. stay well and warm, Jenna, Editor

Your Village Hall needs YOU!

New people are needed for the ongoing function of the village hall.

Karen Our current treasurer is stepping down by the end of the year— many thanks to Karen for keeping us on track. And thankfully Leanne has offered to step up into the position— a big welcome to her.

We are also looking for someone to step into the role of Chair - we have had an interim acting chair since Dave Henderson stepped down, who does not want to take on the role formally. This is an important role at interesting times, as we seek to get going again despite Covid, and look to exciting developments in the future. So if you, or someone you know might like to contribute to the village in this way, please get in touch.

It is a vital position and we are a friendly bunch.

We are also open to other villagers joining us, perhaps especially if you have children at the school or other interests in the village that could benefit from an interface with the village hall. Even if you just want to get out of the house and contribute in some way— our next meeting is 9th November 7.30 pm. We usually meet quarterly but as we have sought to navigate through covid guidelines it has been monthly of late.

Bird Notes by Cliff Cooper October 2020

It has been quite an interesting time locally since the last bird notes were printed; we have had some really unusual visitors to our neighbourhood.

The most spectacular visitor was seen by a group of people at the Green Light Trust site when they saw what can only have been the nomadic Bearded Vulture which has been moving around Bedfordshire and Cambridgeshire. The bird was described as being the size of a barn door! Of course I wasn't around to see it. I have seen them in France and Spain, but not in Britain, so not on my list.

One bird I did manage to spot, however, was a rough-legged buzzard. This was a life first for me though over the years I have had a couple of brief glances at buzzards which could have been the rough-legged species, but the views had not been good enough for me to add the species to my list. This is a fairly rare winter visitor here and is more often seen near the coast.

Another bird of prey unexpectedly turned up in woodland near the village. This time it was a goshawk, a much larger version of the sparrowhawk, a deep woodland dweller. This is probably a young bird from this year's breeding that has been pushed away from its birthplace by its parents.

Last month I mentioned that a raven had been seen locally; well now there are two of them at the same place, hopefully a male and a female. They move around a bit and both my wife and I have seen one of them over the Glebe at different times. Listen out for the deep "kronk" call- much deeper than a crow call.

Just to round off a very different month on the birding front, I have heard both a chiffchaff singing and a fieldfare calling whilst out on a walk down the fields here. Spring and winter on the same day!

I would like to congratulate my good friend and very accomplished birder Grenville Clarke on his receipt of the British Empire Medal from Her majesty the Queen for his services to the environment and wildlife. A very much deserved recognition for a lifetime's devotion to the cause, locally and nationally.

Kaziranga National Park is also home to the world's largest population of Indian one horned rhinoceros, A census taken in 2012 recorded a number of 2290 living there.

As a matter of interest the Brahmaputra is one of the major rivers in Asia, running 2,390 miles in length. It is a transboundary river flowing within the boundaries of China (Tibet), India, and Bangladesh. The river is considered to be one of the longest, and the ninth largest river in the world in terms of water volume discharged. However in view of the restricted depth of water we could only travel 200 miles upstream and finally tied up at an insignificant landing bank not too far removed from Dibrugarh.

So on the day before we left the Charaideo we visited a tea estate in Assam which gave me some idea of the lifestyle my grandparents must have led, though their particular tea estate near Sylhet has, since the 1971 civil war, been in Bangladesh. At the present time it isn't possible to cross from one country to the other so visiting was out of the question. We spent a very pleasant day and were given a tour of the factory, a talk on the workings of a tea estate and had lunch with the Estate Manager and his family.

The following day we travelled to Dibrugarh Airport by coach and took a plane back to Kolkata. We stayed a further night at the Taj Bengal and after that everybody else went off to do their own thing. Whilst at the hotel we had a telephone call from Don's wife Doreen, to say that in January Don had fallen down some steps whilst at a conference in Kolkata and badly damaged his back to the extent that he was then unable to walk. In view of this we were all for changing our plans but Doreen insisted we take the train and stay at their house in Secunderabad as previously arranged. Don had been planning our visit for about a year and had booked a First Class air conditioned 2 berth cabin for us, complete with two cockroaches for company.

Our First Class steward and train. A reservation chart is on the right of the door which showed the name of passengers to use the carriage together with their age, which was a new one on me.

We are selecting a builder to start work in our home before the end of October. Our home has the worst of the damage so they want to fix that first as we have been living in a mess since June! We hope work may start on the shop before December. We have flood gates being fitted on 8th October as we cannot live with the worry of a 3rd flood, and this is being paid for by the kind donations from our customers, friends, locals, and family who donated on the go fund me page that Beth set up in June. Thank you, Caroline.

Lawshall Commuity Woodlands

Forest for Our Children

You may have heard about the rare Bone-eating Bearded Vulture, a really huge bird of prey with a wing span in the region of 2.5 metres, that passed over East Anglia this month. Several lucky people reported seeing it flying above Golden Wood – no doubt admiring our lovely village and community woodlands.

Other, less unusual, birds have also been spotted this month, including stonechats and fieldfares.

*Autumn in Golden Wood:

Essential work has continued, in order to manage the woodlands, although we still have to maintain social distancing and follow the government restrictions that apply to us.

This means that we now have a supply of seasoned logs for sale:

We have been very busy over the last few weeks learning all about Autumn. We have been collecting leaves in our outdoor area and using them for leaf printing, making and learning all about hedgehogs. We have also been using our senses to explore colours and textures in our Autumn small world play.

The changing season doesn't stop us from playing outside - we can put on our waterproof suits and wellies and have outdoor experiences whatever the weather!

During November we will be learning all about Bonfire Night and fireworks, and raising money for Children in Need (with help from our bears!)

We still have spaces available for some of our sessions.

If you would like any further information please feel free to contact us on 01284 827588 or e-mail us on lawshallpreschool@hotmail.co.uk

Birthday Congratulations to our local centenarian!

Margaret Fenemore-Jones

Born 14th October 1920 at home in Woolpit, in a four poster bed, Margaret grew up there until the age of 9 years, attending school in Elmswell. Her family moved to Chiswick in London and she went to Godolphin and Latimer school in Hammersmith. She enjoyed ice skating and horseriding.

Margaret married Derek Fenemore-Jones, who was from Ealing, in a CofE church in Shepherds Bush. They lived in Shepherds bush, Shepperton in Middlesex and Coggeshall in Essex before moving to Lawshall in the early 1980's.

The couple had two children—Anne and Graham. Her husband Derek died on 31st March 2006.

In her 70s & 80s Margaret was involved in fund raising for an orphanage in Albania and to this end organised various coffee mornings, raffles, bring and buy events and a local ballroom dance. She has enjoyed many active years at Lawshall Church and is missing being able to meet with everyone there, as well as her wider circle of friends in the village and in the choir, since the Coronavirus pandemic.

Margaret still enjoys Viva Voices Choir, Scrabble, Reading, and until recently Gardening.

Many Congratulations !!!

With thanks to her daughter for details of her life.

TUESDAY CLUB

Firstly, may we offer huge congratulations to Margaret who celebrated her 100th birthday on 14th October.

We gather that she had a lovely day with her family and was able to celebrate with a small gathering. It was a real disappointment that we, as a club, were unable to celebrate with her and had to cancel the plans that had been made with the Blue Tea room in Lavenham, but perhaps we can re-arrange for Margaret's 101st next year.

It is now almost 7 months ago that we last met and all of our planned outings had to be postponed because of the pandemic. We really do miss you all. As I write, half way through October, we are again facing the prospect of yet another serious outbreak and it is currently very difficult to predict what the future for the club may be.

We know that Jet 2 have already been cancelling some 2021 holidays to certain parts of Europe.

In view of the current situation, we think it is a sensible decision to let you all know, that with winter fast approaching and the pandemic spreading again, we have decided that the earliest date for the club starting up again will be 1st March next year. We sincerely hope that by then we will be able to get together without having to distance and wear masks. Should there be a dramatic change in the pandemic we will of course be in touch.

Meanwhile, please take good care of yourselves and if we can be of help in any way please do not hesitate to contact us.

Lawshall Ladies Book Club

Five Ladies met in my garden on 21st September with suitable warm clothing. Luckily it was dry but we were time limited as I had to be at a Village Hall Committee Meeting at 8pm.

We discussed the Anya Seton book which I had touched on last month. Two ladies had not quite finished reading the book as it was quite lengthy but were enjoying it sufficiently to get to the end. Those of us who had read it very much enjoyed the book learning more about life in the Court as opposed to life as the very common man.

names were obviously used for confidentiality reasons, just initials when discussing a particular patient. At times I felt that some of the accounts of symptoms etc were a little bit crude if that is the right word but at other times it showed the Authors extreme dedication to his patients.

As I said earlier, this is not in a story format so would not be for everyone but if you are interested in the running of a Hospital then this book may be of interest to you.

Next week we will be discussing "This is going to hurt by Adam Kay". This is basically a diary account of when Adam Kay was a Doctor within the NHS. He tells of his progression through to being one step below a Consultant when he decided to leave the profession altogether. We certainly heard of the extremely lengthy hours worked by Junior Doctors and in fact right through to being a Consultant and the toll this had on any private life.

Next month it is my turn to choose a book and I am going for - Bill Bryson - Notes from a small Island. I have never read anything by this Author but various members of my family, both male and female, rave about his books so here goes.

What I like about this book club is that it forces me in particular to read books that I would not normally select. I run a Book Club at the Library for Avid Crime Readers so the Ladies Book Club is getting me into different genres thereby broadening my reading.

Lawshall Archives' ~ November 2020

REMEMBRANCE

As we come to a time of Remembrance again, I wanted to focus on one of the three planes that crashed in our village during the 2nd WW. On 23rd August 1946 three Polish airmen were killed when their Halifax bomber crashed in a barley field at Lawshall Green. They were from 304 Squadron. The plane had taken off from R.A.F. Chedburgh aerodrome and although the pilot was experienced, he had only flown Halifax planes for a few hours. They were on a Circuit and Landing practice. The three men were F/Lt Zygmunt Dabrowski ,F/Lt Nikodem Matylis and F/Sgt Stanislaw Michalak.

These two photographs were given to me by Neville Bougourd.

The funeral of the men took place at Newark Cemetery Nottinghamshire

It was after the fourth take off that the aircraft banked sharply and stalled from a height of 900 feet. The plane caught fire immediately after the crash and sadly the crew members were killed instantaneously.

The eventual finding of the Court of Inquiry was that the crash was because of pilot error. I received some details from Neville Bougourd who was writing a memorial for all the men of the Squadron. He was in touch with the family of one of F/Lt Dabrowski's regular crew (who was not on board at the time of the accident).

The newspaper report at the time mentioned Sybil Ransom who had to throw herself on the ground for safety. She was working in a pea field at the time. Ernie Hill and Stan Armstrong, who worked for Mr. Waspe at Lawshall Hall were among those first at the scene and with the help of a German PO, employed by Mr. Ince at Shimpling, they pulled two bodies from the flames. Ernie Hill said "I heard a plane spluttering and banging and I saw the engine was alight. I cycled there as fast as I could go. I saw one man pinned under the cockpit and we were going to pull him out when another petrol tank exploded. We returned and pulled the man out. He was dead. When the flames had died down a bit we pulled another body away."

I

hoping that Neville has found out some information about the families of these men that we can add to the archives. Interestingly I think Sybil married a Polish man, I wonder if there is any connection?
